At the Crossroads: Aging Policy in Maine

A Prelude to the White House Conference on Aging

The Boomers are coming! Are you ready? What does it mean for Maine?

The Maine Gerontological Society is proud to offer a unique educational and policy development opportunity for those who want to play an active role in shaping aging policy and services in the years to come.

Please join us "At the Crossroads: Aging Policy in Maine" which will highlight the needs, desires and aspirations of Maine's aging citizens, now and in the future. As an officially designated White House Conference on Aging event, the two-day program will culminate in written recommendations on the most crucial aging issues.

February 2nd & 3rd, 2005
Wednesday–Thursday
Sheraton Hotel, South Portland, Maine

Registration Brochure and Preliminary Schedule
Pre-registration Deadline: January 24, 2005

Who Should Attend the Conference?

These conference offerings are designed to educate and inform: administrators, clinicians, practitioners, opinion leaders, policy makers, legislators, educators and older persons.

Continuing Education Credits

Applications have been made for the following:

- Category I CME
- ANA-Maine
- Nursing Home Administrator
- Social Worker

Certificates of attendance issuing continuing education credits will be available at the conclusion of the day.

MCD is accredited by Maine Medical Association's Committee on Continuing Medical Education and Accreditation (CCMEA) as a provider for Continuing Medical Education for Physicians.

The October 2005 White House Conference on Aging (WHCOA) will consider the needs of aging Americans in the 21st century. "At the Crossroads" will address our commitment to provide services to the current generation of older persons and the implications for the nation and Maine as baby boomers begin to reach retirement age in 2006.
