

The Construction Management Technology program is pleased to offer scheduling options within the Civil & Environmental Engineering program that would give CIE students a minor in Construction Management Technology. The construction field provides excellent salaries, numerous employment opportunities, and outstanding growth potential. If you have questions regarding the CMT minor in the Civil and Environmental Engineering program, please see Will Manion for scheduling help. (CET360 and CET462 are required).

Required Course for Minor
CET101, Plane Surveying	3
CIE110, Materials	3
CIE111, Materials Lab	1
Choose at least six credits from the following courses: <sup>4</sup> CET202, Construction Surveying; <sup>2</sup> CET221, Construction Methods; CET224, Construction Safety; CET356, Construction Documents & Administration; <sup>1</sup> CET357, Construction Documents Lab; <sup>1</sup> CET451, Construction Law; <sup>1</sup> & <sup>3</sup> CET479, Construction Competition <sup>1</sup>	6
CET360, Construction Cost Estimating & Bidding <sup>1</sup>	3
CET462, Construction Planning & Scheduling <sup>1</sup>	3
Total New Credits	12

Note:

- Shaded courses are already in the CIE degree.
- 1: This course will substitute for a CIE Technical Elective.
- 2: This course will substitute for CIE 427, Highway Curves.
- 3: This course will substitute for BUA220, Business Law and will count toward the HVSC general education elective.
- 4: CET356, Construction Documents & Administration (2 credits) along with CET451, Construction Law (4 credits) are recommended.